What Is Respect in Our Class?

What does it look like?

it looks like something you can't take your eyes
of.

It feels wonderful and makes you feel you are loved.

It sounds the opposite of ~~soledestrating~~
and sounds incredible.

What does it feel like?

What does it sound like?

My definition of respect is: we take care of people and other things it is a thing that spreads cheerfulness and happiness ✓

Ways to Show Respect

Either on your own or with a buddy, think of all the different ways respect can be seen, felt or heard in these different settings and with these different groups of people.

In the classroom:

- pick up what your using when you have finished with it.
- Take care of property in the classroom such as tucking your chair in

In the playground:

- If someone on the playground wants some alone time respect it because they might want to play with you next time.
- If someone is upset go to them and ask if they want to play

At home:

- when your parents ask you to do something you do it straight away.
- Sometimes parents want quiet time so respect that and give them that time.

In assemblies:

- To respect the teachers or people that come in you could listen to it you never know you might find it interesting.

To my peers:

- you could respect your friends by playing a game that they want one day and you could play what you want the next day.

To adults:

- You could help them with chores or cooking dinner also you could help by laying the table. You could help them by doing your chores as well as well.

To myself:

- you can look after yourself by having an early night and having enough sleep.
- You can help yourself by eating healthy foods and doing lots of exercise.

Ways to Show Respect

Either on your own or with a buddy, think of all the different ways respect can be seen, felt or heard in these different settings and with these different groups of people.

In the classroom:

To show respect in the classroom you need to respect other people's property pick things up on the floor

In the playground:

Respect other people's games by not saying the games bad and use equipment how they are meant to be used

At home:

Be kind to your parents when you are asked to do something you don't just say "ok" you don't just continue you do it

In assemblies:

By being quiet and listen to other people's ideas and try answering every question.

To my peers:

make sure they are alright when they are getting bullied also don't say mean words to them

To adults:

Do things when you are told, listen to them when they are talking to you.

To myself:

You need to not harm yourself and be kind also look left and right when crossing a road
